

Aletto Brothers

As masters of the invisible setting, the Aletto family takes pride in passing down this skilled technique from father to sons for five generations. Never mass-produced, their hand-crafted work is authentic from beginning to end, and the journey of a single piece is equally impressive as the end result.

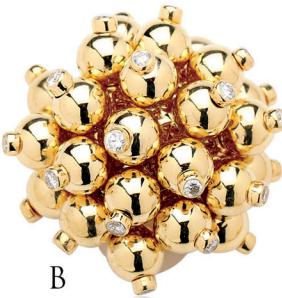

After refining design sketches and shaping the metal, each stone is selected to capture the perfect clarity and depth of color. Then the meticulous lapidary and stone setting work begins, as each exquisitely intricate design takes months to complete. The Aletto Brothers' artistic creations of sapphires, rubies and diamonds embody the very elegance that is eagerly sought by connoisseurs at the illustrious Sotheby's and Christie's auction houses.
